

Darby Residents Concerned About Crime

Pickaway County Commissioners were on the hot seat Wednesday night at a meeting of citizens concerned about the rising crime rate, especially in the northern tier of townships.

The meeting was held in Darby Twp. School and was called by Darby Twp. trustees and a citizens committee composed primarily of residents of that township.

Dave Kohli, who chaired the meeting, said the findings of the citizens committee indicated four major problems which contributed to the increased crime rate: lenient court systems; limited police protection; lack of citizen support; increased potential for crime.

The immediate concern of the committee was the lack of police protection which he said the committee found was due to the limited funding in the sheriff's department.

Pressure was brought to bear on commissioners to provide more general fund money for the sheriff's department and to reassess governmental priorities, if necessary, to provide the additional funds. Questions fired at commissioners even included how much they were paid and what percentage of their total income that was.

John Fraim, a member of the committee who made the introductions at the beginning of the meeting, said: "If we have to choose between pot holes in the road and having our homes broken into because of a lack of police protection, we'll take the pot holes."

L. Robert Liston, chairman of the Pickaway County Commissioners informed those present that commissioners have a total of 52 budgets to approve each year and the amount of total money that can be approved must balance with the amount of income certified by the auditor.

He said that in the final analysis, all budget requests must be cut some to protect the county against deficit spending and the sheriff's was cut more because he had asked for the largest increase in funds.

Liston also noted the county has been able to give all of its employees a modest raise and has also provided the employee's share of hospitalization.

Fringe benefits provided for the deputies include an allowance of $3 per hour for off duty court time required by their job, vacation and sick leave.

Liston also pointed out that it is the duty of the commissioners to allocate funds to the various departments, but it is the decision of the elected official as to how the money will be spent in the department.

Sheriff Dwight Radcliff stated he has lost seven experienced field deputies during the past 60 days to better paying jobs. He has been able to replace three of these deputies.

Starting salary for a deputy sheriff is $8,660 according to the sheriff. The top field deputy salary is $10,195 and the top salary for detectives is $11,700.

His staff of 33 includes two detectives, 12 deputies assigned to patrol the county with three men to each of the four platoons; jail matron and administrative assistant, who is Mrs. Radcliff; the civil division with a full time deputy and clerk; three deputies assigned to the courts, four full time dispatchers, one auxiliary dispatcher, the community relations division which includes one full time deputy and a female deputy, the records division the cooks and clerks.

In answer to a question as to how many more deputies he needed to provide adequate police protection, Sheriff Radcliff said that he would need at least eight more patrolling the county roads to reach the recommended officer-population ration of the FBI.

"We realize there will have to be an increase in personnel in the sheriff's department," Liston said but he indicated that increase has to be tied to available funding for the department.

It was suggested by the committee that extra funds for the sheriff's department could be taken from the contingency fund for unanticipated emergencies or from the road and bridge fund which currently is divided with half going to the engineer's department and half to the sheriff's department.

Pickaway County Prosecutor James Kingsley emphasized that all governmental agencies are faced with the problem of a fixed income. "Inflation has outgrown any tax increases," he said.

"County officials cannot impose

Senate Opens Full-Scale Inquiry Into Bert Lance

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter is reported to be firm in his support of budget director Bert Lance as a Senate committee opens a full-scale inquiry into the former Georgia banker's financial dealings.

The Senate Governmental Affairs Committee began its investigation of Lance today, calling Comptroller of the Currency John G. Heimann as one of its first witnesses.

Lance is scheduled to appear before the Senate panel next week and it appeared certain the long-time friend of President Carter would resist mounting pressure for his resignation at least until he testifies.

Lance's lawyer, Clark Clifford, a former defense secretary and a Carter envoy in the Cyprus dispute, said Wednesday he expects his client and the President to "sit down and assess the entire situation and reach some conclusion."

Clifford said such a meeting would be held after Lance gets his "day in court" before the Senate committee, the same panel that recommended his confirmation to head the Office of Management and Budget.

On Wednesday, Heimann issued his second report on Lance's past financial affairs, again saying he found nothing illegal but noting he had referred some transactions to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. for "additional inquiry."

A spokesman for the corporation confirmed that it had received a letter from Heimann and said it "will do everything possible to cooperate with the comptroller."

Bringing the corporation into the investigation means that five federal agencies, as well as the Senate committee, are now looking into Lance's financial dealings.

Meanwhile, the Washington Post urged Lance to quit, saying in an editorial in today's editions: "Mr. Lance has now become an intolerable burden and distraction to a President who needs his full energies for larger purposes than defending the past record of an old friend. Mr. Lance can now perform only one useful service for the President, and that is to resign."

On Tuesday, the comptroller's office turned information about Lance's use of a Georgia bank's private aircraft over to the Justice Department, Federal Elections Commission and Internal Revenue Service for investigation.

There were reports Wednesday that many Carter administration executives had been aboard the bank-owned aircraft. Carter confidante Charles Kirbo was quoted as saying Lance always had seemed to have an airplane at his disposal and that he didn't know the plane was owned by Lance's bank.

The Los Angeles Times said in its editions today that the documents being studied by the Justice Department show that among those flying on Lance's National Bank of Georgia aircraft before they became part of the Carter administration were Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal and chief economic adviser Charles Schultze. Carter also was a passenger on the plane.

27 Foreign Leaders View Treaty Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration has Latin American backing for the new Panama Canal treaty, but the support of the American people and Congress is still in doubt.

After the colorful treaty-signing ceremony, attended by 27 visiting leaders, the spotlight is focusing on opponents of the pact.

Two long-time foes of relinquishing control of the waterway planned to argue their case today before the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on separation of powers: former California Gov. Ronald Reagan and Rep. Daniel Flood, D-Pa.

With public opinion polls showing only minority support for the treaty, Carter faces an uphill fight in his bid to convince two-thirds of the Senate that the accord is in the national interest.

American officials say the President is expected to use three main arguments in his campaign for the treaty.

He is expected to stress the international support the treaty enjoys, a point amply demonstrated Wednesday night.

The 27 foreign leaders were at the Organization of American States headquarters to watch Carter and Panamanian head of government Omar Torrijos mark the formal end of 13 years of negotiation with the signing.

The officials said Carter will also seek support by campaigning against the present treaty, which dates from the turn of the century.

He told the OAS gathering, "That treaty, drafted in a world so different from ours, has become an obstacle to better relations with Latin America."

Eagle Scout Rank Bestowed

BRAD ARNOLD

The Eagle Scout rank was bestowed upon Brad Arnold, 14, a freshman at Logan Elm High School, during the Sunday, September 4 worship services at the Jefferson Church of Christ in Christian Union, pastored by the Rev. R. L. Heimbach. Arnold is a member of Boy Scout Troop 55 sponsored by the church with Tony McCammon as Scoutmaster.

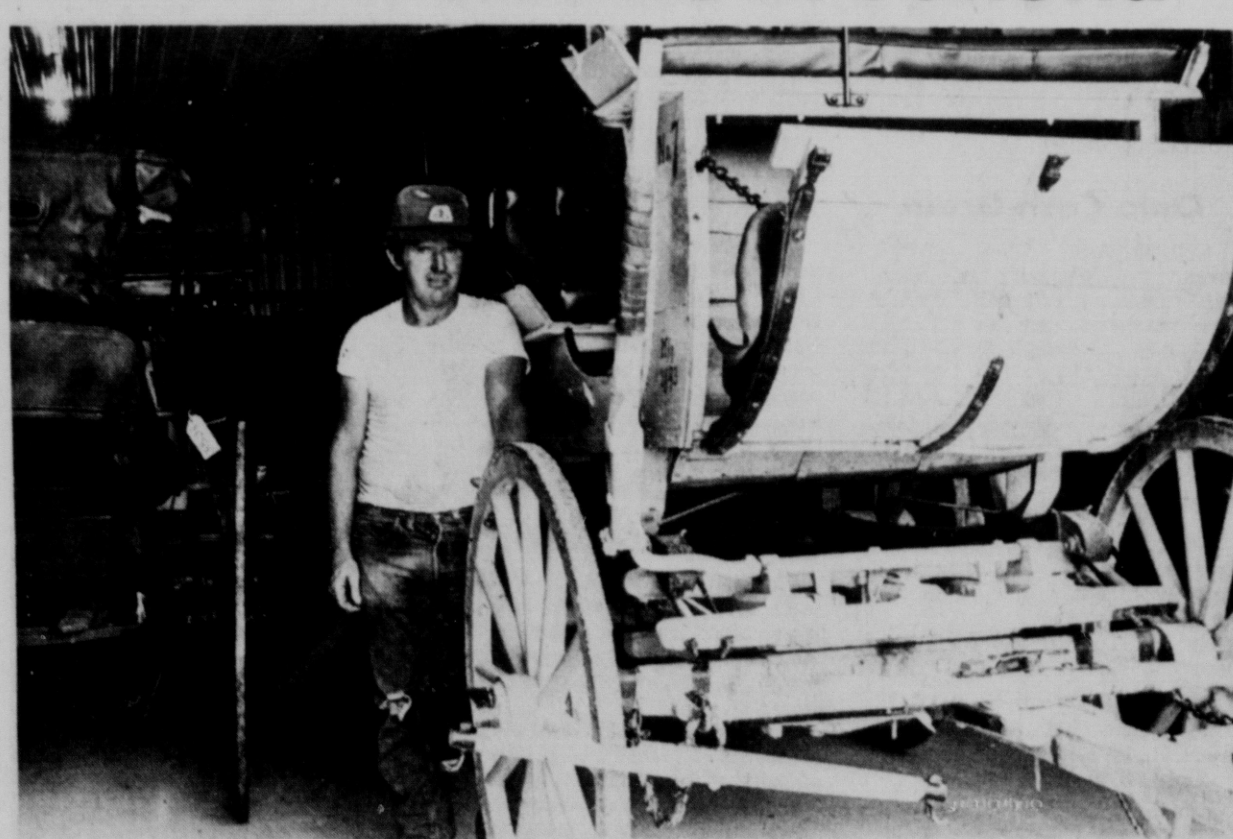

The new Eagle Scout met the qualifications for the highest rank in Scouting by completing the specified requirements of 24 merit badges, ten of which are required and 14 elective. As his service project, he selected to landscape the front of Brooks Yates School. Under his supervision, members of the troop planted 19 shrubs and 35 mums.

Brad is Senior Patrol Leader of Troop 55 and has been a Scribe and Patrol Leader for the troop since he became a Scout just three years ago. Brad is the second member of the troop to become Eagle Scout. He is also the youngest member of the troop thus far to reach his goal he set for himself upon entering Scouting.

He plans to continue with Scouting even though his goal of Eagle Scout has been reached. Brad also desires to be awarded the Interpreter Strip for the Sign Language of the Deaf as he has been able to communicate with his sister Kathleen, who is a graduate of Ohio School for the Deaf.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Arnold, 9978 Zane Trail Road; Brad has been an honor roll student during his school years at Pickaway Twp. and McDowell Exchange Schools, and has had perfect school attendance the last four years. He hopes to be considered for an appointment to Annapolis or the Air Force Academy to further his education. Coin collecting is his favorite hobby with trapping, playing chess and playing the piano being his other interests. He is also a member of Scoutings elect Order of the Arrow.

Women Defeat Judge In Recall Election

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Basing her campaign on "the right of everyone to know they will get a fair trial," attorney Moria Krueger defeated Dane County Judge Archie Simonson in a recall election sparked by his courtroom remarks on rape.

Ms. Krueger, 33, parlayed outrage at Simonson's comments linking rape and women's revealing clothing into 27,244 votes and a 35 per cent plurality Wednesday. Six candidates were on the ballot in the first judicial recall election in Wisconsin history.

Simonson, whose comments from the bench in a May 25 juvenile rape hearing attracted national attention and sparked a 35,000-signature local recall petition drive, received 25 per cent with 18,435 votes.

"I'm a little overwhelmed," Ms. Krueger said at an uproarious celebration at a friend's home on the predominantly liberal West Side, which proved to be her stronghold.

The 52-year-old Simonson said, "The verdict is in and I have no comment other than that."

However, he repeated his steadfast campaign stance that he had run not against his opponents but against the notion he should be recalled for what he said.

The judge said his plans for the future are indefinite, but indicated he would probably not try to regain his seat next spring.

"If nothing else, I can practice law," he said.

He also said he might consider joining a local citizen's campaign against the sex-for-sale business.

"It depends if they ask me or not," said Simonson at a local hall after the ballots were counted.

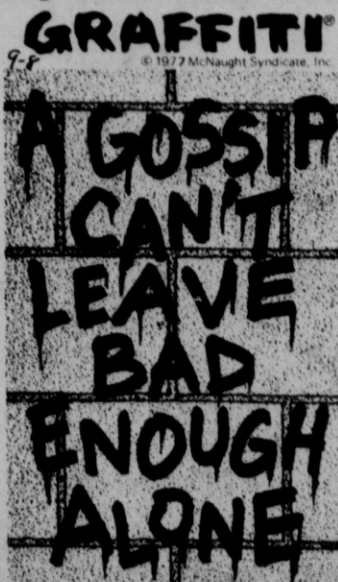

Ms. Krueger refused to attribute her victory to her longtime link with the women's movement.

"The most important principle is the right of everyone to know they will get a fair trial," she said as the champagne and beer flowed at her victory party. "They aren't going to be judged on their gender or race or any other extraneous factors."

The judge-elect, who fought a "special interest" label during her feminist-led campaign, said she was surprised at the margin of victory in her battle to take over Simonson's $31,000-a-year job.

Election officials said she will be sworn in Sept. 18 to take over the remainder of Simonson's six-year term, which expires in April.

Ms. Krueger, who specializes in juvenile law in a downtown private practice with her husband, Edward, had spent more than $15,000 on a heavy media campaign a week before the election. Simonson spent $400 during the same period.

Senate Opens Full-Scale Inquiry Into Bert Lance

27 Foreign Leaders View Treaty Signing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Carter administration has Latin American backing for the new Panama Canal treaty, but the support of the American people and Congress is still in doubt.

After the colorful treaty-signing ceremony, attended by 27 visiting leaders, the spotlight is focusing on opponents of the pact.

Two long-time foes of relinquishing control of the waterway planned to argue their case today before the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on separation of powers: former California Gov. Ronald Reagan and Rep. Daniel Flood, D-Pa.

He told the OAS gathering, "That treaty, drafted in a world so different from ours, has become an obstacle to better relations with Latin America."

At a White House dinner for the visiting hemispheric dignitaries after the OAS ceremony, Carter noted that no Panamanian had read the 1903 treaty before it was signed.

The third point Carter will use in the coming weeks focuses on the provision in the treaty guaranteeing the United States the right to ensure canal neutrality even after Panama assumes control of the waterway at the end of this century.

Carter said the treaty marks "the commitment of the United States to the belief that fairness, not force, should lie at the heart of dealings with the nations of the world."

Torrijos said that while the old treaty was a "technical conquest," it also was a "colonial conquest."

"To be strong carries with it an obligation to be just," he said.

At the end of the 30-minute ceremony, Carter and Torrijos embraced warmly.

There were some dissenting voices to the signing. In Panama, demonstrators advocating an immediate takeover of the canal hurled stones and shouted slogans at the Foreign Ministry.

In Washington, some 2,000 demonstrators marched near the White House. Their target, however, was not the treaty but the presence of 11 military leaders from Latin America.

They carried placards saying, "Carter's Human Rights Policy — Dinner with Fascists."

SOUTH BLOOMFIELD UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

South Bloomfield UM Church Celebrates 100th Anniversary

The South Bloomfield United Methodist Church of South Bloomfield, Ohio, will be observing its 100th birthday with a homecoming celebration on September 18. The District Superintendent, Clyde Pinnell will deliver the message at 9:00 a.m. At noon there will be a carry-in dinner, followed at 2:00 p.m. by a special program.

In the days of circuit riding ministers, a group of religious settlers of the Village of South Bloomfield worshipping as a body in homes of neighbors, realized the necessity of an organized church and building.

That was in 1830. Three years later the first Methodist Episcopal Church was founded.

Originating from ideas verging on puritanism the organization grew. A church was built, but proved to small for its congregation less than fifty years after its erection. A new church building was erected, and this, standing today as a monument to a community faith will celebrate its 100th anniversary on September 18, 1977.

The residents of the Village met in 1833 as an organized congregation at the home of Daniel Millar, (which was later the site of the American Hotel, a stage coach stop - 1847-1976).

In 1835 an organization of 10 members was effected, which then was a part of the Pickaway Circuit. Later it became part of the Franklinton Circuit.

The first church building was erected in 1837 at a cost of $1500.00 on land donated by William Renick and his wife Mary.

The first Trustees of the Church were Thomas Morris, Jeremiah Clark, Daniel Millar, Abner Briggs and John Martin.

In 1868 the South Bloomfield circuit was organized out of the old Royalton Circuit. The circuit consisted of Hedges Chapel, Asbury Chapel, Union Chapel, Shadeville and South Bloomfield Churches. Later a Parsonage was built which the people had some difficulty paying for as in 1875 there were only 9 members on the entire circuit with a yearly income of $1,500.

In 1877 the old church was torn down, and a new brick church was erected on practically the same spot.

The church was paid by subscription. Everybody in and out of the church aided in the enterprise, so that a house, complete in every detail was built at a cost of $3,946.30. Some of the costs included: Furnace $162.00, slate roof $287.95, spouting $21.50, benches $250, pulpit and furniture $72.00, Church plan $5, labor $201, lightning rods $60, lumber $355.85, lath $40, bell $172.75, 68,000 bricks (at $5.50 per 1000) $378, each chandelier (sic) $37.50, etc. Total cost of the church included organ, lamps, carpet, furniture, furnace, and bell.

In March, 1875, the church was put into use, and was dedicated on April 7, 1878. The Rev. J. M. Rife was the Pastor and in his report to conference he stated, "There are fully 100 at regular services and not infrequently 150 to 200 persons."

In 1904-05 a new Parsonage was built at a cost of $1365. The old Parsonage was sold for $300. and moved across the alley.

From the first building until today there have been many organizations, but The Helping Hand Society, is of the longest duration, and has contributed much to the finances and support of the church and Parsonage through out these years.

In the 1950's the basement of the church was remodeled to be used for Sunday School classes, social get togethers, a new organ, piano, and chimes were installed. Stained glass windows replaced the clear glass windows. The windows were designed by a local art teacher, Mrs. Vivian (Runkle) Michael. Later the church exterior was sand blasted and refinished.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) —The stock market inched ahead today, stretching out the gradual advance that began last week.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials rose a fraction in early trading.

Gainers took a slim lead over losers among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

Analysts said the market drew some support from the Commerce Department's upward revision Wednesday of its figures for businesses' capital spending plans in the third and fourth quarters.

Today's early prices included Ogden Corp., unchanged at 24 in a 100,000-share block trade; American Telephone & Telegraph, ahead 1/4 at 61 1/2, and Tenneco, up 1/4 at 31 1/4.

On Wednesday the Dow Jones industrial average rose 3.12 to 876.39, bringing its advance for the last five sessions to 17.50 points.

Gainers outpaced losers by about a 4-3 margin on the NYSE.

Big Board volume came to 18.07 million shares, against 16.13 million on Tuesday.

The NYSE's composite index added .15 to 53.59.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was up .22 at 119.07.

Chamber Discusses Condition Of Sidewalks

The condition of sidewalks in the city was the main topic discussed at the Circleville area Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday. Special ramps for the handicapped were also considered at that time.

It was decided that the matter should be brought to the attention of the retail merchants at the meeting Monday. It was suggested that they be made aware of the problems and given specifications for ramps on sidewalks and stores.

Ned Schreiner of the retail merchants committee also told the board of the Midnight Madness sale to be held Sept. 20. A clinic on shoplifting is also being planned by the committee.

A tour of Columbus Industries and Reynolds Aluminum is being planned for chamber members on Oct. 5. A report from the agri-business committee said that afterwards a chicken barbecue will be held at the Dorwin Hay Farm.

There is a new city map in the chamber office, it was reported, and the commerce brochures are at the printer.

Red cross training with John Leist will be starting soon and a report from Ed Bohenko of the Safety committee noted that the committee will meet 7:30 a.m. Wednesday in the chamber office for all interested.

No plans have been made for the North Court Street traffic light and a study is being done at the Lancaster Pike Shopping center by Service Director Atwood Jones.

Six new members have been added to the chamber roster bringing the total to 202. William Fortner of Fortner Auto Supply of Ashville is a new member and also guest at the luncheon meeting. Others new to the chamber are Russ Lutz of the Exxon Service Station, John Nutter, Nutter Excavating, Andrew Ward, Andy's Market, Ashville, Charles Morrison, Morrison Market, Ashville and Carl Hemming of Carl Hemming Inc.

In the presidents report, Steve Stevenson said that the nominating committee met and they are in the process of contacting people. The results will be in the first of October.

The chamber is still waiting for the go-ahead on the Special Interest Committee. It would deal with problems in the area and different alternatives for solving them. The County Commissioners have given approval for the committee but the chamber is still waiting for a letter from the Circleville City Council.

Larry Plum reported that the Small Business Seminar will be planned for the first of the year, or Winter Quarter at Ohio University Branch.

This week the Children's Room of your public library is introducing a media new to its collection: filmstrips. Twelve color filmstrips with accompanying cassette tapes and printed texts have been added to the Children's collection and are available for loan to teachers, daycare leaders, and others who work with groups of children.

The filmstrips, audio-visual versions of well known and well loved Children's stories, utilize the original illustrations and texts of the books from which they are taken.

Stories available in our new film-strip sets are "Caps for Sale," "The Circus Baby," "Journey Cake, ho!", "London Bridge Is Falling Down," "Make Way for Ducklings," "Millions of Cats," "Petunia," "The Snowy Day," "Stone Soup," "The Tale of Peter Rabbit," "Three Billy Goats Gruff," and "Where the Wild Things Are."

Ask at the check-out desk for filmstrips or filmstrip equipment.

Parents of preschoolers, take note! Fall library programs for this age-bracket begin the week of September 19th and will continue through the week of November 14th (with one week off for Pumpkin Show). Setting The Example

When the U.S. Civil Service Commission said it was time government employees stopped taking extended lunch breaks, the president of the National Federation of Federal Employees in effect said, "same to you, Bub."

Commenting on abuse of the 30-minute standard lunch period, the union head said it wasn't the Indians who were the major abusers—it was the chiefs. The Civil Service proposed crackdown should be amended, he said, "to enjoin supervisors not only from condoning such abuses but also from committing them, since they, in our opinion, are the chief culprits."

Hubbs Of The Fish World

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

San Diego — Dr. Carl L. Hubbs, one of the country's most honored marine scientists for 62 years, has really made a name for himself. He's also made a name for 22 species of fishes, one genus and one species of lichen, one bird, one whale, two mollusks, one crab, two insects, three species of algae, one research institute, and one lake in Nevada.

"They're all named Hubbs," says his wife, Laura, who has assisted the sprightly, 83-year-old scientist for the last 60 years. "And he takes pride in all of them I think — even though, if you ask me, that Lake Hubbs in Nevada is the most God-forsaken place I've ever seen."

Carl Hubbs, a droll gentleman who still has jet-black hair, looks fondly at his wife. "Never mind," he says. "There's a mimmo named after her, too. Laurie, we call it. And a lantern fish also bears my wife's name. Cute thing. Has 50 to 60 little lights built in it, and can flash them on when it wants to. Like Laura."

A remarkable couple, the Hubbs' are interviewed over luncheon at their latest namesake — the Hubbs-Sea World Research Institute in San Diego, a few miles from the famed Scripps Institution of Oceanography, where Carl is Professor Emeritus.

"The oceans are full of new species," he explains, "and the scientist who discovers them (and contributes scientific papers) is likely to find them named after him." Although Hubbs probably has more marine namesakes than anyone else around, he assures that "There are several thousand that haven't been discovered. Just recently in Hawaii, something came to the surface, tangled up in Navy gear. It had very small teeth, but it was an unknown variety of shark — no doubt about that. Fascinating. Like to have been there to see it."

Although they're both octogenarians, the Hubbses still spend

large amounts of time on research at Scripps and the Research Institute at Sea World, where studies are constantly being conducted in the fields of fisheries and biological research, aquaculture and marine animal husbandry. The Institute provides opportunities for students to learn the rudiments of marine biology and allied fields. Programs are offered in such areas of specialization as Ichthyology, Aquaculture, Aquatic Environmental and Population Studies, and Aquatic Science Education.

"It's popular today for students to want to get into courses like this — particularly here in California." It seems one step to youth from surfing and skin-diving, to making a career of oceanography.

"A lot of people want to be marine biologists now — but they mostly want to start at the top," says Dr. Hubbs, amused. "They are full of emotion, but not so full of effort. Instant-biology is what they're looking for. The attitude is 'Gee, I want to be a mammal expert.' We now have students who come in and say, 'I want to be a whale person. Please lead me to the whales.'"

It's not that easy. Says Laura: "Everything is even more complicated than it used to be. And people aren't any smarter."

The basics must be learned first, but today's youth don't want to study the basics. Dr. Milton Shedd, chairman of the board of the Institute, observes wryly that "with the present bureaucratic red tape and environmental impact study groups, the would-be marine mammal expert would find it useful to be a physicist, chemist, master at forensics, debate and extemporaneous speaking, and certainly have a law degree. After that is accomplished, with a little luck he may be permitted to study grasshoppers, or possibly domestic (not foreign) snails..."

Dr. Hubbs smiles. "In other words, it is not so easy today to conduct the kind

Dear Editor:
The fifth season of "Tecumseh!" is now history. We again set a season attendance record of 72,023.

Thank you people of Pickaway County for helping make this season successful. Your contributions, work and attendance went far in the continuing support of "Tecumseh!"

I appreciate those people who stop after the show to say hello. It is a great feeling to have your own people supporting you.

Many thanks to our local news media, The Circleville Herald and WNRE. Their support and coverage helped greatly to make the public aware of "Tecumseh!" Thanks again for your continuing support.

STEVE STEVENSON

Dear Sir:

I read the letter to the editor by Larry Lane of the PeeWee Football League wondering how adults could treat kids like this.

I am associated with the Circleville Girls Softball and three years ago we were given diamond No. 2 at the fairgrounds for as long as we had a league. Two years ago another group decided to play there too.

This year they decided they wanted to play the same day and time that we do, so they are going to run the kids off. A few of these talked to a group of people who call themselves the fair-board but whom I call the "wrong board".

They tell them, "Remember, we're farmers and Christians we have been around longer than those kids."

These are the people you hear saying they don't like the kids hanging out on corners or in front of those places or all they do is lie around all day doing nothing or what drives them to smoking pot and drinking. They are not going to give them anything except a kick in the teeth. These people who are still looking for their moment of glory not realizing it is passing them by.

Thank you
RALPH F. JONES

Ford, a graduate of the university, spoke to 10 political science classes last April.

"His first visit was greatly appreciated by faculty and students, and his return is also anticipated with pleasure," Professor Samuel Barnes, chairman of the political science department, said Tuesday.

LAFF - A - DAY

"I can't find one I like."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been told to have a special kind of examination. I think I'm spelling it correctly. It is "laparoscopy." I'm afraid to tell my doctor how frightened I am.

Mrs. T. L., Tex.

Dear Mrs. L.:
Laparoscopy is a very common gynecological operation. It is performed safely, and is a valuable method for uncovering important information within the abdominal cavity.

The laparoscope is painlessly inserted into the abdomen under local or general anesthesia. Through this instrument, the doctor can examine the abdomen and the pelvic area.

Much information is obtained about the condition of the Fallopian tubes, the ovaries and the uterus. It has been remarkably effective in finding the causes of infertility and for locating the cause of unexplained abdominal pain. Photographs can be taken through the instrument for further study.

The new techniques of laparoscopy have made a tremendous impact on the practice of gynecology.

You should not deny yourself the advantage of this excellent type of examination because of your unnecessary fears. All those who are to have this or any other kind of specialized examination should discuss every aspect of it with their doctors in order to allay their fears.

Do you see any disadvantages to a banana and milk diet for losing weight?

Miss F. S., N.C.

Dear Miss S.:
Bananas are highly nutritious, easily digested and very palatable. In combination with milk and supplementary vitamins, such a diet is useful in losing weight.

Being limited in character, it is the kind of diet one should not stay on for a long period of time.

The greatest advantage of such a diet is that the loss of weight occurs because there is a marked reduction in caloric intake. There are no remarkable properties to this diet other than those I have stated.

An additional advantage of the combination of bananas and milk is that it drives away the so-called hunger pains and makes dieting bearable.

There are no magic diets. No matter how ingenious people are about coming up with tempting, new diets, they cannot skirt this basic scientific fact: Unless you consume fewer calories than your body requires for a normal day's activities you will not lose weight.

Before going on any diet that is a radical departure from the normal patterns of eating, it is wise to consult your own doctor and stay on the diet for the duration allowed by him.

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

San Diego — Dr. Carl L. Hubbs, one of the country's most honored marine scientists for 62 years, has really made a name for himself. He's also made a name for 22 species of fishes, one genus and one species of lichen, one bird, one whale, two mollusks, one crab, two insects, three species of algae, one research institute, and one lake in Nevada.

"They're all named Hubbs," says his wife, Laura, who has assisted the sprightly, 83-year-old scientist for the last 60 years. "And he takes pride in all of them I think—even though, if you ask me, that Lake Hubbs in Nevada is the most God-forsaken place I've ever seen."

Carl Hubbs, a droll gentleman who still has jet-black hair, looks fondly at his wife. "Never mind," he says. "There's a mimmo named after her, too. Laurie, we call it. And a lantern fish also bears my wife's name. Cute thing. Has 50 to 60 little lights built in it, and can flash them on when it wants to. Like Laura."

A remarkable couple, the Hubbs' are interviewed over luncheon at their latest namesake—the Hubbs-Sea World Research Institute in San Diego, a few miles from the famed Scripps Institution of Oceanography, where Carl is Professor Emeritus.

"The oceans are full of new species," he explains, "and the scientist who discovers them (and contributes scientific papers) is likely to find them named after him." Although Hubbs probably has more marine namesakes than anyone else around, he assures that "There are several thousand that haven't been discovered. Just recently in Hawaii, something came to the surface, tangled up in Navy gear. It had very small teeth, but it was an unknown variety of shark—no doubt about that. Fascinating. Like to have been there to see it."

Although they're both octogenarians, the Hubbses still spend

large amounts of time on research at Scripps and the Research Institute at Sea World, where studies are constantly being conducted in the fields of fisheries and biological research, aquaculture and marine animal husbandry. The Institute provides opportunities for students to learn the rudiments of marine biology and allied fields. Programs are offered in such areas of specialization as Ichthyology, Aquaculture, Aquatic Environmental and Population Studies, and Aquatic Science Education.

"It's popular today for students to want to get into courses like this—particularly here in California." It seems one step to youth from surfing and skin-diving, to making a career of oceanography.

"A lot of people want to be marine biologists now—but they mostly want to start at the top," says Dr. Hubbs, amused. "They are full of emotion, but not so full of effort. Instant-biology is what they're looking for. The attitude is 'Gee, I want to be a mammal expert.' We now have students who come in and say, 'I want to be a whale person. Please lead me to the whales.'"

It's not that easy. Says Laura: "Everything is even more complicated than it used to be. And people aren't any smarter."

The basics must be learned first, but today's youth don't want to study the basics. Dr. Milton Shedd, chairman of the board of the Institute, observes wryly that "with the present bureaucratic red tape and environmental impact study groups, the would-be marine mammal expert would find it useful to be a physicist, chemist, master at forensics, debate and extemporaneous speaking, and certainly have a law degree. After that is accomplished, with a little luck he may be permitted to study grasshoppers, or possibly domestic (not foreign) snails..."

Dr. Hubbs smiles. "In other words, it is not so easy today to conduct the kind of research Laura and I have done most of our lives."

One of the Hubbses' many specialties has been the study of marine mammals; one formidable whale is, in fact, known scientifically as "mesoplodon Hubbs."

Asked about the trainability of the "killer whales"—those awesome "Shamu" superstars of aquatic shows—Dr. Hubbs says, "The general consensus is that the killer whale, which is a large dolphin, is easier to train than the average porpoise. It's a size factor. A killer whale is not intimidated by a trainer only a fraction of his size, and therefore, not being frightened, it is more amenable to learning tricks."

And are killer whales really killers? "Well, they've got big mouths and teeth and, from old ships logs, we learn they killed other whales."

"There's a working riddle that would seem applicable: 'What do you do when a 5,000-lb. killer whale doesn't want to do what you want it to do?'"

The correct answer is: 'Nothing.'"

Dear Editor:

The fifth season of "Tecumseh!" is now history. We again set a season attendance record of 72,023.

Thank you people of Pickaway County for helping make this season successful. Your contributions, work and attendance went far in the continuing support of "Tecumseh!"

I appreciate those people who stop after the show to say hello. It is a great feeling to have your own people supporting you.

Many thanks to our local news media, The Circleville Herald and WJRE. Their support and coverage helped greatly to make the public aware of "Tecumseh!" Thanks again for your continuing support.

Dear Sir:

I read the letter to the editor by Larry Lane of the PeeWee Football League wondering how adults could treat kids like this.

I am associated with the Circleville Girls Softball and three years ago we were given diamond No. 2 at the fairgrounds for as long as we had a league. Two years ago another group decided to play there too.

This year they decided they wanted to play the same day and time that we do, so they are going to run the kids off. A few of these talked to a group of people who call themselves the fair-board but whom I call the "wrong board".

They tell them, "Remember, we're farmers and Christians we have been around longer than those kids."

These are the people you hear saying they don't like the kids hanging out on corners or in front of those places or all they do is lie around all day doing nothing or what drives them to smoking pot and drinking. They are not going to give them anything except a kick in the teeth. These people who are still looking for their moment of glory not realizing it is passing them by.

Thank you

LAFF - A - DAY

"I can't find one I like."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I have been told to have a special kind of examination. I think I'm spelling it correctly. It is "laparoscopy." I'm afraid to tell my doctor how frightened I am.

Mrs. T. L., Tex.

Dear Mrs. L.:

Laparoscopy is a very common gynecological operation. It is performed safely, and is a valuable method for uncovering important information within the abdominal cavity.

The laparoscope is painlessly inserted into the abdomen under local or general anesthesia. Through this instrument, the doctor can examine the abdomen and the pelvic area.

Much information is obtained about the condition of the Fallopian tubes, the ovaries and the uterus. It has been remarkably effective in finding the causes of infertility and for locating the cause of unexplained abdominal pain. Photographs can be taken through the instrument for further study.

The new techniques of laparoscopy have made a tremendous impact on the practice of gynecology.

You should not deny yourself the advantage of this excellent type of examination because of your unnecessary fears. All those who are to have this or any other kind of specialized examination should discuss every aspect of it with their doctors in order to allay their fears.

Do you see any disadvantages to a banana and milk diet for losing weight?

Miss F. S., N.C.

Bananas are highly nutritious, easily

digested and very palatable. In combination with milk and supplementary vitamins, such a diet is useful in losing weight.

Being limited in character, it is the kind of diet one should not stay on for a long period of time.

The greatest advantage of such a diet is that the loss of weight occurs because there is a marked reduction in caloric intake. There are no remarkable properties to this diet other than those I have stated.

An additional advantage of the combination of bananas and milk is that it drives away the so-called hunger pains and makes dieting bearable.

There are no magic diets. No matter how ingenious people are about coming up with tempting, new diets, they cannot skirt this basic scientific fact: Unless you consume fewer calories than your body requires for a normal day's activities you will not lose weight.

Before going on any diet that is a radical departure from the normal patterns of eating, it is wise to consult your own doctor and stay on the diet for the duration allowed by him.

Teays Valley Board Puts Operating Levy On November Ballot

Voters in the Teays Valley School District will have three school issues to decide on the Nov. 8 election. An operating levy has been added as the third item for vote.

Superintendent Benis Lutz said the board has not asked for an additional operating levy since 1972. If the 5.2 mills is not passed in November, he said the schools "could not survive on current funds through 1978." The board voted on this at the Aug. 29 meeting of the board of education.

The two bond issues for the district are for 1.77 mills for elementary additions and 3.81 mills for a new junior high building. Lutz added that if the operating levy is not passed in 1977, funds will not be available again until 1979.

The tuition rates for the school term as set per formula is $60.24 per month. Tax rates were reviewed as certified by the Pickaway County Budget Commission. They are: 3.7 mills inside the 10 mill limitation and 16.1 mills voted for current operation for a total of 19.8 mills for current operation locally. In addition to that is 1.1 mills for Eastland Joint Vocational operation; 1.2 mills for local bond retirement (reduced .3 mill for 1977); .3 mill for joint vocational bond retirement for a grand total of 22.4 mills for all school purposes.

Built into that budget however and

'Chicken Wild' Wins World Race

BROOKINGS, Ore. (AP) — A speedy banty rooster named "Chicken Wild" blitzed nearly 100 other feathered foes to win the 3rd annual world chicken race championship.

Cheered on by 2,000 spectators, the triumphant clucker clocked 18.6 seconds on the 100-foot course race, which is liberally sprinkled with chicken feed to add to the suspense.

The chickens are thrown into the air at the blast of the starter's pistol and chased to the finish line by owners who sometimes look like chickens with their heads cut off.

Dennis Coit, race chairman, said chicken racing is an art that has evolved two definite schools of thought.

One is that chickens run best when loved, respected and treated as equals.

The other is that the fastest chicken is the "scaredest chicken."

19 MPH Signs Go Back Up In Georgia Town

LUMBER CITY, Ga. (AP) — Mayor Hugh Harris wants drivers to notice the unusual 19-mile-per-hour speed limit signs in his small south Georgia town. But he doesn't want them stolen.

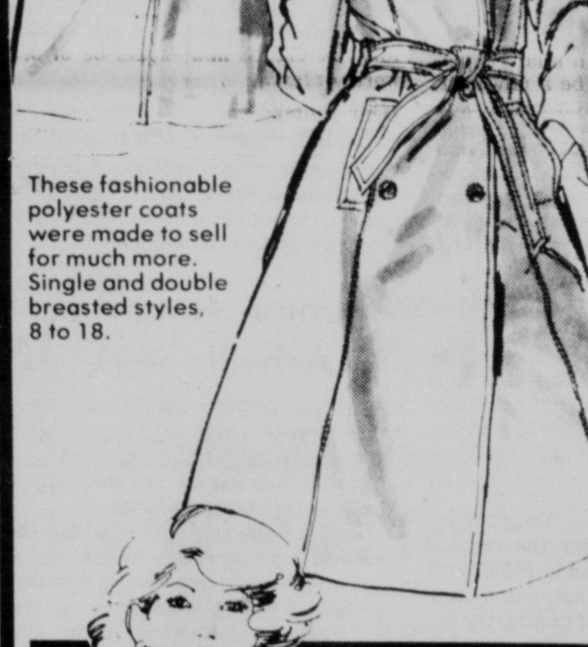

Lumber City is getting ready to reinstall the signs on side streets and residential areas after souvenir hunters carried them off in 1967 and again in 1971.

"We're trying something new this time," he said. "The metal signs are riveted to the posts instead of being bolted on as they have been in the past."

"We really don't expect drivers to go 19," he said. "But they notice the 19-mile limit and it keeps them closer to 25 or 30. Drivers always fudge a little on speed limits."

19 MPH Signs Go Back Up In Georgia Town

LUMBER CITY, Ga. (AP) — Mayor Hugh Harris wants drivers to notice the unusual 19-mile-per-hour speed limit signs in his small south Georgia town. But he doesn't want them stolen.

Lumber City is getting ready to reinstall the signs on side streets and residential areas after souvenir hunters carried them off in 1967 and again in 1971.

"We're trying something new this time," he said. "The metal signs are riveted to the posts instead of being bolted on as they have been in the past."

"We really don't expect drivers to go 19," he said. "But they notice the 19-mile limit and it keeps them closer to 25 or 30. Drivers always fudge a little on speed limits."

Home Canning Is Not A Lost Art

Despite the many quick-frozen and canned foods on the market today, home canning is still popular in millions of American homes.

More and more women are doing their own thing, even in view of the convenience of ready-to-cook products because they control the contents.

Some reasons for the growing trend toward home preserving are:

An increasing interest in nutrition; concern, justified or not, over additives in commercially processed foods; a feeling of control over what goes into the container; rising food costs; and personal satisfaction.

But home preserving must not be looked on as a hobby. It's not a fad, either it's a serious thoughtful activity.

One of the home canner's main concerns, and rightly so, is vacuum sealing.

Wise gardeners planted with an eye to staggering crops so they could harvest summer through fall, capturing fresh fruits and vegetables at their peak and preserving them for off-season use. For those who don't have a garden, the next best course is to take advantage of plentiful supplies in the market, always selecting only the strictly fresh and undamaged.

There have been so many improvements, new ideas developed, new concepts in food safety, that quite likely your old canning books, instructions and recipes should be discarded. There are no safe shortcuts. Canning and freezing must be done by the book. Get the latest information. Most container manufacturers offer new and modern, detailed instructions and recipes. State and Federal department of agriculture bulletins are also available.

Times have changed and many of Grandmother's methods should also be discarded simply because today's foods are different. The acidity of soil and food has changed through modern agriculture therefore the time required for processing must be changed. Even in pickling, for example, recipes are different because Grandmother's vinegar was quite different from ours and salt was saltier and less refined.

You should never, for example, use the old-fashioned oven method for processing filled jars because the food does not reach a high enough temperature to kill bacteria. Besides, glass jars could explode when the oven door is opened.

Armed with the best up-to-date information on home-canning you've obtained from manufacturers or government agencies, and your choice of glass jars and equipment, you should be ready to take on almost any canning chore. However, if you lack superconfidence, and if it's your first venture, better take the secure route and start with the more simple projects.

Fruits are easy to can and will give you a feeling of accomplishment and satisfaction in knowing you're putting up the purest for your family. If you're cutting down on sugar consumption and water-pick doesn't appeal use unsweetened juices.

Always follow manufacturer's instructions for use of their canning equipment. Their books or booklets usually are thorough.

But, here are general rules for processing fruits:

Jars: Wash them in hot soapy water and rinse thoroughly. After rinsing, keep them in very hot water until you're ready to use. Don't use stiff brushes, steel wool, washing soda or abrasives that can scratch the glass. Examine them for nicks inside and around the rim.

Closures: Caps, lids, rings should also be washed in hot soapy water, rinsed thoroughly and left in hot water until ready for use. If using zinc caps or glass lids that have been used before, wash, then boil for 15 minutes and leave in hot water until ready to pack.

Boiling Water Bath: This is the process you will use for the recipes that follow: As each jar is filled, and capped, while it's still hot, place on a rack in a large kettle of boiling water, leaving space around each jar for water to circulate freely. When all jars are in, add boiling water, being careful not to pour directly on jars. Bring water level to one to two inches above jars. Cover kettle. Bring to a full rolling boil. Start timing at this point. Reduce heat to keep water boiling steadily but gently for the required time. If you live more than 1,000 feet above sea level consult the altitude chart found in good canning books.

At the end of the processing time, remove the jars at once, placing them on cloths out of drafts to prevent breakage (and tears of frustration).

Test the Seal: When thoroughly cooled, test the seals. If rubber rings are used, the jar will leak when tipped if the seal has not taken. With the two-piece vacuum lids, push down in center of lid (if using red-button lids, push down on the red center). If it does not move, the seal is good. If it pushes down and springs back up, the jar is not sealed and the contents should be reprocessed at once or refrigerated and eaten within a day or two.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A reader wrote in asking what you thought of people who still had their Christmas tree up in May. He suggested that perhaps the men in the white coats carrying butterfly nets should be called. I'm glad you didn't join in and ridicule the people whose tree was still up because ours has been up longer than theirs.

My husband disappeared on December 22nd, and no one has heard a word from him since. He helped me put up our Christmas tree on the 20th of December, and our kids (now 6, 9 and 10) keep begging me not to take the tree down "Until Daddy comes home."

It's still up. My hopes are fading, but you know how kids are—they never give up, God bless them.

ALL CRIED OUT
DEAR CRIED: If prayers will help, be assured you have mine.

DEAR ABBY: Seeing that you answer everything from A to Z, I was wondering if you'd stop at "D" for dogs.

I have a problem with mine. He's an 8-month-old shepherd—a terrific dog, but I can't seem to housebreak him. He is not dumb, but I can't seem to get the idea across to him that he has to wait until someone lets him out.

Abby, I have read dog books, and followed every suggestion in the book, from rubbing his nose in the mess to spanking him within an inch of his life, but nothing has worked for me.

I hope you'll print this because there must be a way to housebreak a dog that works, even though it's not in a book.

DESPAIRING

DEAR DESPAIRING: My canine consultant suggests that you establish a "routine" by walking your dog at set times of the day. If he does what he's supposed to do where he's supposed to do it, reward him with a treat. And if he messes in the house, scold him in a harsh tone and "show" him why you are displeased. He'll catch on.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for trying to educate the public concerning the handicapped.

My wife and I are both deaf and mute (please, not "deaf and dumb") and we use sign language to communicate with each other.

The reaction of some uninformed people we encounter in places of business would astonish you.

I'd like to repeat a very old, but true story to make my point. One afternoon two fine Boston gentlemen were hanging onto the straps of a trolley. Below them were seated two deaf-mutes, conversing in sign language.

One of the straphangers whispered to his friend, "I'm curious about something," whereupon he took a note pad and pencil from his pocket and wrote, "CAN YOU WRITE?" Then he handed it to one of the deaf-mutes, who, after studying it carefully, slowly drew from his pocket an elegant, expensive fountain pen, emerald in color and trimmed in gold. Then, with a grand flourish, he penned a few words on the note pad and handed it back to the standing gentlemen.

Imagine their chagrin when they read in exquisite penmanship: "CAN YOU READ?"

AXEL WINTERLANE
DEAR AXEL: Beautiful!

Boston To Display Posters Of Delinquent Taxpayers

BOSTON (AP) — The city is planning to embarrass some of its prominent residents into paying their delinquent property tax bills by splashing their pictures and tax bills on wanted posters in various public spots.

Details of the poster campaign are still sketchy, according to George Regan Jr., Mayor Kevin H. White's press secretary, but the handbill-size posters were expected to be up this week. Possible locations for the posters include city hall and on the downtown Park Square billboard.

Regan, who would not identify any of the tax delinquents, said putting pictures on wanted posters would be harsh. But he said it would get the point across — that the city is serious about collecting an estimated $50 million owed in property taxes for the last three fiscal years.

Boston has recently used several tactics to get that point across, all of which have been somewhat successful.

Last week, city officials, along with a pilot and television crews, tried to confiscate attorney F. Lee Bailey's helicopter at the Plymouth Airport. Bailey owes the city $18,000 in back taxes for his downtown law offices. The plan was to land it at City Hall Plaza and display it as testimony of the city's determination to collect its taxes.

Bailey apparently caught wind of the plan and locked the helicopter in a garage. However, his office did come up with a $5,000 payment.

Also last week, the city confiscated two taxi cabs whose owners have large, outstanding tax bills. One owner, who owes $16,000, immediately paid $6,000 and promised quick payment of the remainder.

48 In New Medical School

ROOTSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The first year of medical school began Wednesday for 48 students enrolled in the Northeastern Ohio Universities College of Medicine which is using the facilities of various colleges to overcome a doctor shortage.

The students already have completed two years of college at either the University of Akron, Youngstown State or Kent State University. They are now entering their third year, which is equivalent to the first year of medical school, at the new $13 million medical science building at the Rootstown campus.

During the next three years, the medical students will continue their training at one of 10 community hospitals in the Akron, Canton and Youngstown area.

Margaret Dietz, a college spokesperson, said the approach saves money and resources. She said the state legislature first financed the program in 1973 in recognition of the shortage of primary-care doctors in northeast Ohio.

Although 25 per cent of Ohio's residents live in the northeastern part of the state, she noted, only 18 per cent of the primary-care doctors in the state practice there.

Primary care doctors include doctors trained in pediatrics, gynecology, obstetrics, internal medicine and family care.

Mrs. Dietz said the tuition is equivalent to other state medical schools, but is lower than private medical schools. Only Ohio residents may qualify for the program.

Scioto Valley Levy Passes; Schools Open

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP) — Pupils in the Scioto Valley Local School District were in class Wednesday after voters approved an 8.4 mill, five-year emergency operating levy in a special election Tuesday.

The levy had been defeated in three previous elections this year. Examiners for the state auditor's office had told the 1,500-pupil district that another defeat would mean its four schools could not open until October, then could remain open only one week before closing again until November.

The levy, approved 1,392-719, is expected to raise some $190,000 a year for the next five years.

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: A reader wrote in asking what you thought of people who still had their Christmas tree up in May. He suggested that perhaps the men in the white coats carrying butterfly nets should be called. I'm glad you didn't join in and ridicule the people whose tree was still up because ours has been up longer than theirs.

My husband disappeared on December 22nd, and no one has heard a word from him since. He helped me put up our Christmas tree on the 20th of December, and our kids (now 6, 9 and 10) kept begging me not to take the tree down "Until Daddy comes home."

It's still up. My hopes are fading, but you know how kids are—they never give up, God bless them.

ALL CRIED OUT
DEAR CRIED: If prayers will help, be assured you have mine.

DEAR ABBY: Seeing that you answer everything from A to Z, I was wondering if you'd stop at "D" for dogs.

I have a problem with mine. He's an 8-month-old shepherd-a terrific dog, but I can't seem to housebreak him.

He is not dumb, but I can't seem to get the idea across to him that he has to wait until someone lets him out.

Abby, I have read dog books, and followed every suggestion in the book, from rubbing his nose in the mess to spanking him within an inch of his life, but nothing has worked for me.

I hope you'll print this because there must be a way to housebreak a dog that works, even though it's not in a book.

DEAR DESPAIRING: My canine consultant suggests that you establish a "routine" by walking your dog at set times of the day. If he does what he's supposed to do where he's supposed to do it, reward him with a treat. And if he messes in the house, scold him in a harsh tone and "show" him why you are displeased. He'll catch on.

DEAR ABBY: Thank you for trying to educate the public concerning the handicapped.

My wife and I are both deaf and mute (please, not "deaf and dumb") and we use sign language to communicate with each other.

The reaction of some uninformed people we encounter in places of business would astonish you.

I'd like to repeat a very old, but true story to make my point. One afternoon two fine Boston gentlemen were hanging onto the straps of a trolley. Below them were seated two deaf-mutes, conversing in sign language.

One of the straphangers whispered to his friend, "I'm curious about something," whereupon he took a note pad and pencil from his pocket and wrote, "CAN YOU WRITE?" Then he handed it to one of the deaf-mutes, who, after studying it carefully, slowly drew from his pocket an elegant, expensive fountain pen, emerald in color and trimmed in gold. Then, with a grand flourish, he penned a few words on the note pad and handed it back to the standing gentlemen.

Imagine their chagrin when they read in exquisite penmanship: "CAN YOU READ?"

Coalition Leaders Set 'Fall Offensive'

KENT, Ohio (AP) — May 4th Coalition leaders, elated by new delays granted by the courts, have announced plans for a "fall offensive" against construction of a gym annex at Blanket Hill on the Kent State University campus.

Coalition spokesperson Greg Rambo said Tuesday the latest delays have given the group the time it needed to organize opposition to construction near the site of the May 4, 1970 shootings that left four students dead and nine wounded.

"We can hold out now until the students come back this weekend," he said.

Despite favorable orders from a U.S. Supreme Court justice and the U.S. Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, Rambo said the coalition was not counting on the courts to block construction of the gym.

"We have little faith in the courts," said Rambo, "but a lot of faith in our lawyers. They've done a tremendous job against insurmountable odds in securing a delay in any construction until school begins, which is essential in our efforts to move the gym."

He said the coalition, "expecting the worst," is preparing "hit and run tactics" when the construction starts.

He said the tactics would be "strictly nonviolent."

Rambo likened the struggle to a similar fight by Columbia University students in 1968, which he said successfully halted construction of a gym after it was one-fourth built.

The coalition was expecting the bulldozers to start Tuesday, Rambo said. Instead, an order came down from Supreme Court Justice William Brennan granting a delay in construction pending a hearing on the coalition's petition.

At about the same time, the appeals court in Cincinnati extended its own temporary order against construction shortly before that order was to have expired.

The appeals court order freezes construction until the court rules on the coalition's petition for a rehearing before that court, which earlier ruled that it lacked jurisdiction.

Kent State officials were equally surprised by the court rulings. Dr. Brage Golding, the new KSU president, was preparing to tell a news conference that the school was going ahead with construction.

Inmate Stabbed To Death At Lucasville

LUCASVILLE, Ohio (AP) — An inmate serving two consecutive life sentences at the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility was stabbed to death early Wednesday, according to a corrections department spokesman.

Robert L. House, 23, of Coshocton, was found dead in his cell during a routine check, the spokesman said. He had been stabbed in the heart with a homemade knife found outside the cell. Prison officials had no leads in the case.

House was sentenced from Coshocton County Oct. 7 for the slaying of Edward Emigh of Coshocton. House's brother, Wayne, 25, is on death row for his part in the slaying.

Don't speculate. Invest in the single element typewriter that will assure increased office productivity.

Get higher returns with a moderate priced investment in the Adler SE-1000. It's the only single element typewriter with a five-ribbon cartridge system that permits instant changing from fabric to carbon ribbon, and back. Compared to an IBM model, it has extra operating features, such as: more repeat keys, a paper injector, a retractable paper support/page-end indicator, and more. According to an independent consumer product testing organization, it types faster than IBM. A wide selection of interchangeable type style cores makes it completely versatile for any typing job.

Pressure On Lance Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House Budget Director Bert Lance is facing increasing pressure to resign as federal investigators prepare to reveal a new report about alleged improprieties in the use of money and an airplane owned by Lance's Georgia bank.

Lance, a long-time friend of President Carter, now is the subject of investigations that involve the Justice Department, the comptroller of the currency, the Securities and Exchange Commission, the Internal Revenue Service, and by a House subcommittee and a Senate committee armed with subpoena powers.

Comptroller of the Currency John G.

Heimann planned today to reveal the findings of his investigation into allegations about Lance's use of bank money and aircraft owned by the National Bank of Georgia for private and political purposes.

Last month, Heimann said his office's investigation of Lance's banking practices had shown some questionable dealings, but no evidence of illegal conduct.

But after key legislators were briefed on his new report on Tuesday, Rep. Fernand J. St. Germain, D-R.I., chairman of a House banking subcommittee looking into Lance's finances, said Heimann had turned information on Lance's private use of the bank aircraft over to the Justice Department, the Federal Elections Commission and the Internal Revenue Service.

Prince Albert Enters Amherst

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Monaco's Prince Albert is taking up residence in a dormitory at Amherst College, waiting to start his freshman year at the 1,300-student school Friday.

Albert Grimaldi, 19, moved in over the weekend with the help of his mother, Princess Grace.

Prince Albert is heir apparent to succeed Prince Ranier as ruler of the tiny European principality.

Use The Classifieds

The Los Angeles Times reported in today's editions that the comptroller's report outlined "questionable loans and maneuvers" by Lance and his business associates in 1971 and 1973 to buy control of two Georgia banks — the Bank of Ringold and the Cohutta Banking Co. of Chatsworth, Ga.

The newspaper quoted the report as saying Lance and his associates borrowed money from the Fulton National Bank of Atlanta and later picked that bank as a correspondent bank, placing funds from Lance's Calhoun First National Bank in the Fulton bank at no interest.

Despite White House denials of published reports that Lance's hours as director of the White House Office of Management and Budget are numbered, the burly Georgia banker clearly was losing ground Tuesday.

Earlier, the White House had been adamant in its insistence that Lance would not resign. But Tuesday, when Carter briefly encountered reporters asking whether Lance would keep his job, the President did not take advantage of the opportunity to stick up for the budget director, replying: "We'll see about that later."

Presidential Press Secretary Jody Powell said, "The Justice Department has to make its deliberations without prejudgment from the White House hanging over its head."

Lance hired as his attorney former Defense Secretary Clark Clifford and Carter's envoy in the Cyprus dispute, who was quoted as saying, "If Lance resigned at this time it would be tantamount to a plea of guilty."

LOF Co. Protests PUCO Decision

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Libbey-Owens-Ford Co. wants Gov. James A. Rhodes to do something about a recent Public Utilities Commission ruling the company claims will unnecessarily cost the glass producer $358,700 this year.

Robert G. Wingerter, LOF board chairman, has written Rhodes complaining bitterly that the decision "holds disturbing implications for Libbey-Owens-Ford and Ohio companies who have invested heavily in self-help gas programs."

A Rhodes' aide has responded that the governor is aware of the concerns Wingerter has voiced and that the governor also believes the PUCO is concerned about the complaints. The self-help program is one of Rhodes' pet projects.

It encourages Ohio industries to develop their own energy supplies. The concept especially pushes for the industries to drill their own natural gas wells with that fuel supply delivered by the utility companies for a charge. Wingerter claims LOF has "invested approximately $10 million to develop supplies of self-help gas, both in Ohio and Oklahoma."

His concern centers on action taken by PUCO July 22 when it ruled that Columbia Gas of Ohio Inc. no longer must contract with individual industries when buying emergency supplies of gas. Formerly the PUCO prohibited the gas company from passing the higher cost of emergency gas along to any customer except those signing contracts.

Columbia claims the ruling allowed it to buy 6 billion cubic feet of emergency natural gas. The company says that volume should mean no industrial curtailments this winter providing the weather is normal.

Columbia Board Chairman Marvin E. White wrote to Wingerter Aug. 23 saying, "I also do not understand your comments on self-help, and how the purchase of emergency volumes adversely affects self-help."

White later admitted, however, that the PUCO ruling will mean all industrial customers will be paying an extra 5 cents a thousand cubic feet for the emergency gas purchase. That surcharge will be imposed by Columbia over a 12-month period, not just the five-month winter heating season.

LOF Co. Protests PUCO Decision

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Libbey-Owens-Ford Co. wants Gov. James A. Rhodes to do something about a recent Public Utilities Commission ruling the company claims will unnecessarily cost the glass producer $358,700 this year.

Robert G. Wingerter, LOF board chairman, has written Rhodes complaining bitterly that the decision "holds disturbing implications for Libbey-Owens-Ford and Ohio companies who have invested heavily in self-help gas programs."

A Rhodes' aide has responded that the governor is aware of the concerns Wingerter has voiced and that the governor also believes the PUCO is concerned about the complaints. The self-help program is one of Rhodes' pet projects.

It encourages Ohio industries to develop their own energy supplies. The concept especially pushes for the industries to drill their own natural gas wells with that fuel supply delivered by the utility companies for a charge. Wingerter claims LOF has "invested approximately $10 million to develop supplies of self-help gas, both in Ohio and Oklahoma."

His concern centers on action taken by PUCO July 22 when it ruled that Columbia Gas of Ohio Inc. no longer must contract with individual industries when buying emergency supplies of gas. Formerly the PUCO prohibited the gas company from passing the higher cost of emergency gas along to any customer except those signing contracts.

Columbia claims the ruling allowed it to buy 6 billion cubic feet of emergency natural gas. The company says that volume should mean no industrial curtailments this winter providing the weather is normal. Columbia Board Chairman Marvin E. White wrote to Wingerter Aug. 23 saying, "I also do not understand your comments on self-help, and how the purchase of emergency volumes adversely affects self-help."

White later admitted, however, that the PUCO ruling will mean all industrial customers will be paying an extra 5 cents a thousand cubic feet for the emergency gas purchase. That surcharge will be imposed by Columbia over a 12-month period, not just the five-month winter heating season.

It was open house at 701 N. Court Street in Circleville last Sunday afternoon as friends, old and young came to offer congratulations to Mrs. Jessie Defenbaugh who, on Sept. 2 had celebrated her 100th birthday. Personally, I wouldn't have missed it for anything. I know Jessie would have loved to have had her sister, Bessie Courtright Blank sitting beside her but that was not to be as Bessie passed away at the age of 96. As long as I can remember, I had heard my parents talk of the Warner twins, who had gone to school with my Dad. You always said both names together, almost as one word, Jessie N Bessie, for when ever you saw one of the ladies, the other was close by.

In 1902 Jessie married George Defenbaugh, a school teacher. They were married for 73 years when George died on June 19 1975, at the age of 98. Their only child, a son, Ivan died several years ago. For 25 years, the Defenbaughs and a group of very close friends, about 35 in all, had celebrated their birthdays and anniversaries together. Through death, the group has dwindled to nine. On last Friday evening, those nine friends met at Jessie's home with covered dishes for a dinner party. As an added pleasure they sent to the "Drummer Boy" restaurant for chicken. When they picked up the chicken, the restaurant also gave them a beautifully decorated cake and a piece of Jessie's favorite pie, blackberry. Those who enjoyed dinner with the birthday lady and her niece and companion, Mrs. Carrie Marcum were, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Liston, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rose, Mrs. V. D. Kerns, Emerson Martin, Mrs. Lowell Brown, and Mrs. Hillis Hall. Mrs. Defenbaugh spent last winter in Alabama in Mrs. Marcum's home but they returned to Circleville in the early summer.

On Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Marcum assisted by Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Sally Brown, Mrs. Kerns, Mrs. Fannie Rose and Jessie's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Agnes Defenbaugh of Columbus acted as hostesses for the open house.

As the guests entered the home they registered at the guest book and admired the display of birthday cards arranged on ribbon on the wall. They will all be cherished but one which took it's place as the main attraction was from the White House and was signed by both the President Jimmy Carter and his wife Rosilyn.

Beautiful floral arrangements, gifts from various friends were placed throughout the home. The refreshment table was centered with a huge sheet cake decorated with a little lady seated in a rocking chair and the reading "Happy Birthday, Jessie, 100 Years." This work of art as well as another cake that was served came from Lindsey's bakery in Circleville. Served with the cake was punch, mints and nuts. Asked if she wanted a piece of cake, Jessie said "I'd rather have some good baked beans than all that cake".

Pink napkins were used and in one corner was a spray of roses and "Happy 100th Birthday Jessie Defenbaugh, Sept. 2, 1977," all printed in gold.

Jessie looked quite chipper in her pink dress with a beautiful purple orchid corsage, (her first orchid) which was a gift from her old time supper club crowd and Mrs. Marcum, as she greeted her friends with a smile and chatted with each one, as only she can. In fact, chatting is her favorite pastime. She didn't care too much for all that picture taking stuff, by cameraman Bob Wolford, but was soon talked into it, and I am sure she would agree, it was a wonderful day. A perfect beginning for anyone to a second century of living.

Other Laurelville natives who dropped in to wish Mrs. Defenbaugh many more years were Miss Ruth Bowers of Tipp City, and Miss Helen Mettler who now lives in Circleville.

The women's Society of the Trinity church held their Sept. meeting at the church on last Thursday evening. The meeting opened with the group singing "The Light of the World is Jesus". Rev. Jacob Lehman gave the opening prayer. Miss Frances McClelland was program leader. Helping with the program by reading articles given them by the leader were Mrs. Evelyn Lehman, Mrs. June Poling, Margaret Chilcote and Celesta Hoy.

Mrs. Virginia Stinard, president, presided during the business meeting. Mrs. Barbara Hettinger gave the secretary's report, Mrs. Dorothy McClelland and the treasurer's report. Miss Chilcote reported that the same officers had been asked to serve for another year. Mrs. Eleanor Bowers is the vice president. The society will serve their annual turkey dinner to the public on the evening of Nov. 5 at the church beginning at 5 o'clock. Carry out dinners will be taken care of from 4 to 5 and none after 5. Plans for supper were discussed and committees named. The ladies will be selling calendar towels again near the holiday season.

Refreshments were served to 14 members and one guest by Mrs. Stinard and Mrs. Debbie Dumm.

Miss Cynthia Egan, bride-elect of Michael Anderson, was honored with a personal shower and luncheon Sunday, August 28th. given by Mrs. Francis Harmon, Mrs. Carol Moore and Mrs. Robert West at the West home in Laurelville. Pink and white floral arrangements were used on the tables.

Those attending were — Miss Egan, Mrs. Roger Egan, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. John Anderson, mother of the groom to be, Mrs. Curtis Hinton and Mrs. Doris McAbee, grandmothers of the bride and groom, respectfully, Mrs. Howard Egan, Mrs. David Hinton, Darma and Kim, Mrs. William Gooley, Mrs. Ramon Maxson and Ramilee, Mrs. Don Roof, Mrs. Bob Shoemaker and Jodi, Mrs. Robert Hudgins, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. Howard Weaver, Mrs. Joe Robinette, Miss Michele Robinette, Mrs. Ed Blum, Mrs. Arthur Hinton, Mrs. Clyde Stinard and Kim, Miss Vickie Hunt, Mrs. Robert Dumm, Miss Chris DeLong, Mrs. Mark Sweptson.

Those unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Albert Beglin, Mrs. Dan DeLong Sr. and Mrs. Steven Neff. The wedding of Miss Egan and Mr. Anderson will be solemnized on September 10th at 6:30 p.m. in the Laurel Hills U.M. Church of Laurelville, O.

A surprise wedding anniversary party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ben McNichols was held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter Jerry and Robbye Myers of Rt. 4, Circleville on Labor Day. The couple were married 43 years on Sept. 4th.

Joining them for a carry-in dinner were their children and their families; Mr. and Mrs. Fred (Betty) Bush and Tina of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. (Margaret) Good, son Mike and daughter Marsha of Kingston, O., Mr. and Mrs. Dale (Francine) Disbennett, daughter of Joyce and son David of Laurelville, Mr. and Mrs. Larry McNichols, son Todd and daughters Tammi and Tabitha of Laurelville.

The host and hostess, Jerry and Robbye Myers, and daughters Angie and Heather. A daughter, Mrs. Kathy Berard who lives in Maine was not present but called her parents to congratulate them. Others attending were — granddaughter, Mrs. Penny Dolby of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. John McNichols, of Laurelville; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Poling, Robin and Jennifer of Stoutsville; Glen and Mary Markle of Grove City; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Ebert, Kenny Dille and Jeff Beglin of near S. Bloomingville; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Butler of Circleville; Mrs. Ella McConneha and children Terry, Billy and Kay and Mrs. Mary Bailey all of Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. McNichols received a number of nice gifts and everyone had a most enjoyable day.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Jinks, Mrs. Helen Winner and Mrs. Mary Cunningham called at the Woodyard Funeral Chapel on E. State St. in Columbus on Monday to see Gerald Ebert, 60, who died last Friday. Gerald was raised in Laurelville in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Ebert, later going to Columbus where he was employed for 30 years at the Joyce Shoe Co. and later working for the U.S. Shor Co. in Chillicothe. He is survived by his wife, Cora Pauline, sons Gerald E. and Richard of Columbus and Jeffery with the U.S. Army in Germany, one grandson, his father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter (Pete) Ebert of Circleville, 3 brothers, John of Circleville, Robert and Donald of Kingston, three sisters, Mary McNeal, Madeline Metcalf and Pat Van Fossen all of Circleville. Funeral services were held on Tuesday with burial in the Sunset Cemetery.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday in Logan in the Leanard-Lyke Funeral home for Delbert Norris, who died unexpectedly Friday of a heart attack. He was an electrician in Logan where he had lived for many years. He and his wife, the former Helen White, just celebrated their 50th. wedding anniversary on Aug. 21st. He was a member and former pastor of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints of Logan. Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Ruth Ann Wolfe of Godfrey, Ill. and Mrs. Janet Lou Smith of Lancaster, four grandchildren, one great granddaughter, two brothers Aaron Norris of Logan and Ilber Norris of Urbana.

There will be a meeting of the Laurelville Senior Citizens on Monday evening, Sept. 12th. at 6 p.m. with a carry-in picnic supper at the Laurelville park.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whisler returned home last Tuesday after spending 10 days with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lee Whisler and daughter of Dubuque, Iowa. On Aug. 27 they helped their little granddaughter, Brenda, celebrate her second birthday. During their stay the folks all enjoyed a two day visit to the Wisconsin Dells.

Labor Day weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Robert West were Mrs. Carol Moore and Jodelle of Circleville, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ellis of Amanda, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Spiby of Columbus, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Evans of Lancaster.

Friends and relatives will be happy to know that on Friday of this week, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ricketts and eleven month twin daughters of Albuquerque, New Mexico, will arrive to visit his mother, Mrs. George Ricketts of Adelphi, and his sisters and brothers of the area. A family reunion and birthday celebration for Mrs. Ricketts is planned for Sept. 11th. It is the first time that any of the family have seen the twins.

Miss Susan Kelley of Ann Arbor, Mich. visited Saturday afternoon with her grandparents, George and Esther Sweptson. Sunday afternoon visitors of the Sweptsons were Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Botzer of Mt. Sterling.

Mrs. Mabel Drum Hooks and daughter Mary Alicia of Midland, Mich. visited over the weekend with Mabel's parents, Denny and Ruby Drum of near the Rock House. Mabel's son Joey Hooks and her daughter Susan who lives in Georgia joined them on Friday for a brief overnight visit.

Volunteer Sought To Help X-Ray Hurt Elephant

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) Veterinarian Fred Blackwell is looking for a brave soul to help him X-ray Penny II, an 8,000-pound elephant that fell into a dry moat and injured a leg.

Dr. Blackwell, veterinarian at the Abilene Zoo, said the extent of Penny's injury had not been determined because no one was eager to get close to the elephant in her irritated condition.

Penny fell into an eight-foot-deep moat in front of her cage last week, injuring her right hind leg. Firemen had to fill the moat with water and float Penny to the top to get her out.

In order to X-ray the elephant, a procedure he described as "very dangerous," someone would have to get under the elephant and hold a metal plate against her leg while the X-ray was shot, he said.

So far, there have been no volunteers.

Putnam County's organization had a varied history: While established in 1820 this county, 50 miles southwest of Toledo, was attached to Wood County and in 1824 to Williams County before gaining its own identity as a county in 1834. —AP

Asked if she wanted a piece of cake, Jessie said "I'd rather have some good baked beans than all that cake".

Pink napkins were used and in one corner was a spray of roses and "Happy 100th Birthday Jessie Defenbaugh, Sept. 2, 1977," all printed in gold.

Jessie looked quite chipper in her pink dress with a beautiful purple orchid corsage, (her first orchid) which was a gift from her old time supper club crowd and Mrs. Marcum, as she greeted her friends with a smile and chatted with each one, as only she can. In fact, chatting is her favorite pastime. She didn't care too much for all that picture taking stuff, by cameraman Bob Wolford, but was soon talked into it, and I am sure she would agree, it was a wonderful day. A perfect beginning for anyone to a second century of living.

Other Laurelville natives who dropped in to wish Mrs. Defenbaugh many more years were Miss Ruth Bowers of Tipp City, and Miss Helen Mettler who now lives in Circleville.

The women's Society of the Trinity church held their Sept. meeting at the church on last Thursday evening. The meeting opened with the group singing "The Light of the World is Jesus". Rev. Jacob Lehman gave the opening prayer. Miss Frances McClelland was program leader. Helping with the program by reading articles given them by the leader were Mrs. Evelyn Lehman, Mrs. June Poling, Margaret Chilcote and Celesta Hoy.

Mrs. Virginia Stinard, president, presided during the business meeting. Mrs. Barbara Hettinger gave the secretary's report, Mrs. Dorothy McClelland the treasurer's report. Miss Chilcote reported that the same officers had been asked to serve for another year. Mrs. Eleanor Bowers is the vice president. The society will serve their annual turkey dinner to the public on the evening of Nov. 5 at the church beginning at 5 o'clock. Carry out dinners will be taken care of from 4 to 5 and none after 5. Plans for supper were discussed and committees named. The ladies will be selling calendar towels again near the holiday season.

Refreshments were served to 14 members and one guest by Mrs. Stinard and Mrs. Debbie Dumm.

Miss Cynthia Egan, bride-elect of Michael Anderson, was honored with a personal shower and luncheon Sunday, August 28th. given by Mrs. Francis Harmon, Mrs. Carol Moore and Mrs. Robert West at the West home in Laurelville. Pink and white floral arrangements were used on the tables.

Those attending were — Miss Egan, Mrs. Roger Egan, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. John Anderson, mother of the groom to be, Mrs. Curtis Hinton and Mrs. Doris McAbee, grandmothers of the bride and groom, respectfully, Mrs. Howard Egan, Mrs. David Hinton, Darna and Kim, Mrs. William Gooley, Mrs. Ramon Maxson and Ramilee, Mrs. Don Roof, Mrs. Bob Shoemaker and Jodi, Mrs. Robert Hudgins, Mrs. John Taylor, Mrs. Howard Weaver, Mrs. Joe Robinette, Miss Michele Robinette, Mrs. Ed Blum, Mrs. Arthur Hinton, Mrs. Clyde Stinard and Kim, Miss Vickie Hunt, Mrs. Robert Dumm, Miss Chris DeLong, Mrs. Mark Sweptson.

Those unable to attend but sending gifts were Mrs. Albert Beglin, Mrs. Dan DeLong Sr. and Mrs. Steven Neff. The wedding of Miss Egan and Mr. Anderson will be solemnized on September 10th at 6:30 p.m. in the Laurel Hills U.M. Church of Laurelville, O.

A surprise wedding anniversary party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ben McNichols was held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter Jerry and Robbye Myers of Rt. 4, Circleville on Labor Day. The couple were married 43 years on Sept. 4th.

Joining them for a carry-in dinner were their children and their families; Mr. and Mrs. Fred (Betty) Bush and Tina of Grove City, Mr. and Mrs. Paul F. Bloomingville; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Butler of Circleville; Mrs. Ella McConneha and children Terry, Billy and Kay and Mrs. Mary Bailey all of Columbus.

There will be a meeting of the Laurelville Senior Citizens on Monday evening, Sept. 12th. at 6 p.m. with a carry-in picnic supper at the Laurelville park.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Whisler returned home last Tuesday after spending 10 days with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lee Whisler and daughter of Dubuque, Iowa. Volunteer Sought To Help X-Ray Hurt Elephant

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) Veterinarian Fred Blackwell is looking for a brave soul to help him X-ray Penny II, an 8,000-pound elephant that fell into a dry moat and injured a leg.

Dr. Blackwell, veterinarian at the Abilene Zoo, said the extent of Penny's injury had not been determined because no one was eager to get close to the elephant in her irritated condition.

Penny fell into an eight-foot-deep moat in front of her cage last week, injuring her right hind leg. Firemen had to fill the moat with water and float Penny to the top to get her out.

In order to X-ray the elephant, a procedure he described as "very dangerous," someone would have to get under the elephant and hold a metal plate against her leg while the X-ray was shot, he said.

So far, there have been no volunteers.

Putnam County's organization had a varied history: While established in 1820 this county, 50 miles southwest of Toledo, was attached to Wood County and in 1824 to Williams County before gaining its own identity as a county in 1834. —AP

CHS Tigers Meet Cavaliers Friday

By CRAIG ALLISON
Herald Sports Writer

The Circleville Tigers finish nearly a month of preparation at 8 p.m. Friday evening, at which time they will enter Cavalier Stadium at Chillicothe for a date with the Cavaliers.

This year's Chillicothe eleven possess good balance and speed, according to Circleville head coach Larry Cook. They also like to break open the "big play," and Cook says this is one of the things the Tigers must prevent.

The Roundtowners will run out of the 1 and pro formations on offense, and the bulk of the defense will be played from the 5-2. The Red and Black will also take to the air lanes as the situation dictates.

Offensive personnel taking the field for Circleville will include Mark Albright at tight end, with either John Frericks or Mike Brudzinski at split end. Larry Pontious and Paul Heffelfinger will man the tackle posts and the guards will be Eric Berlin and Tim Pontious. Jeff Strawser will snap the ball at the center spot.

The field general will be Rich Elsea, and the fullback spot will be filled by Doug Brown. Dave Marshall will move from the tailback position, and the wingback will be Greg Berrigan.

Stopping the Cavalier progress will be Albright at the stand-up end, with Jeff Pauley as the Tiger end. Strawser and Heffelfinger will be the tackles, with Eric Berlin the middle guard.

The linebackers will be Marshall and Steve Vinkovich. In the defense backfield, the Tiger Man will be Brown, with the five yard halfback being Brudzinski. The strong safety will be Berrigan, and Joe Leahy gets the nod at middle safety.

The Tigers will be a healthy outfit, on the whole, for Friday night's opener. Cook told the Herald that one member of the Tiger squad, Jeff Haist, is currently hospitalized with an ailment not related to football. Tiger Jeff Pauley has been battling a flu type bug this week but is expected back by Friday. Junior Paul Thompson and sophomore Brian Allison are still mending foot injuries from pre-season. Quarterback Jon Bakalus has started working out following a foot injury, and according to Cook, stands a good chance of seeing action in Friday's contest.

The Tigers are ready for their 1977 debut, according to Cook. "We are in excellent physical condition, and we worked on our fundamentals during pre-season. These are two of the biggest things we wanted to get done before the season started. If you don't get things like that completed during pre-season, it's awfully difficult to do it after the season starts when you have to prepare for a different opponent every week. I also think our team morale is excellent, and we are anxious to start the season."

The Tigers take their first step Friday night toward bettering their 1976 mark of 5-5. Be at Cavalier Stadium early and get a good seat, because it's a good bet that the two squads will waste no time in getting right down to business.

Giants Topple Reds, 6-3

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

After nearly going broke, Willie McCovey has hit the jackpot again.

All but counted out last year after the worst performance of his career in San Diego and Oakland, McCovey has returned to his original major league starting place in San Francisco and is enjoying a rich season.

His comeback at the age of 39 includes 24 home runs this year, one of which he hit Wednesday night to help the Giants beat the Cincinnati Reds, 6-3.

McCovey also reached the career 2,000-hit level with a double, but was more impressed with his homer.

"Total hits don't mean as much to me as the power hits," said McCovey, whose 489th home run boosted him into 13th place on baseball's all-time list.

The loss cost the Reds more ground in the National League West race. They dropped 12½ games behind the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers, who moved a step closer to the title with a 5-2 decision over the Atlanta Braves.

In other National League action, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the New York Mets 6-2; the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4; the San Diego Padres outscored the Houston Astros 9-5 and the Montreal Expos turned back the Chicago Cubs 4-2.

Right-hander Ed Halicki, 13-10, added a solo homer to McCovey's blast while recording his first triumph over the Reds in seven tries.

Dodgers 5, Braves 2

Ron Cey drove in three runs with a pair of homers and Dusty Baker added a solo shot, lifting Los Angeles over Atlanta. Cey led off the fourth with his 26th home run of the season, a drive against the scoreboard that tied the score at 2-2. Baker put the Dodgers ahead two outs later with his 23rd, a shot into the left-field seats.

After Reggie Smith singled with two out in the fifth, Cey sent another drive over the center-field fence, staking right-hander Dennis Lewallyn, 1-0, to a 5-2 lead and chasing Atlanta starter Buzz Capra, 3-11.

Phillies 6, Mets 2

Larry Christenson pitched a two-hitter, Jay Johnstone hit a home run and Garry Maddox delivered a two-run single to lead Philadelphia over New York.

Christenson, 14-6, surrendered Lee Mazzilli's solo homer in the first inning and the Mets scored in the seventh with the help of three Philadelphia throwing errors.

Pirates 5, Cardinals 4

Bill Robinson drove in two runs and scored two more, carrying Pittsburgh over St. Louis. Terry Forster evened his record at 4-4, although he retired after five innings with a stiff pitching arm.

Padres 9, Astros 5

Dave Roberts drove in four runs with a double and a three-run homer as San Diego beat Houston.

The Padres' Dave Freisleben, 7-7, hurled the first five innings to earn the victory.

Expos 4, Cubs 2

Tony Perez blasted a two-run double and Gary Carter and Ellis Valentine added RBI singles to pace Montreal over Chicago.

Stan Bahnsen, 8-7, scattered eight hits through 6 2-3 innings to earn the decision while Rick Reuschel, 19-7, was stymied in a second try for his 20th victory.

Angel Torres Called To Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Angel Torres, a 24-year-old lefthander, was called up by the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday from their Class AA farm team in Three Rivers, Canada of the Eastern League.

Torres is the fourth minor league player called up by the Reds in the past week.

He was obtained by the Reds last May from the Montreal Expos in a deal that gave Cincinnati two young pitchers in exchange for Santo Alcala.

Torres, a native of the Dominican Republic, was 2-1 in 12 games at Three Rivers, with a 3.52 earned run average. Earlier this season he was with Indianapolis and Denver of the American Association, where he had a combined record of 2-0 and an ERA of 7.28.

His comeback at the age of 39 includes 24 home runs this year, one of which he hit Wednesday night to help the Giants beat the Cincinnati Reds, 6-3.

McCovey also reached the career 2,000-hit level with a double, but was more impressed with his homer.

"Total hits don't mean as much to me as the power hits," said McCovey, whose 489th home run boosted him into 13th place on baseball's all-time list.

The loss cost the Reds more ground in the National League West race. They dropped 12½ games behind the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers, who moved a step closer to the title with a 5-2 decision over the Atlanta Braves.

In other National League action, the Philadelphia Phillies beat the New York Mets 6-2; the Pittsburgh Pirates edged the St. Louis Cardinals 5-4; the San Diego Padres outscored the Houston Astros 9-5 and the Montreal Expos turned back the Chicago Cubs 4-2.

Right-hander Ed Halicki, 13-10, added a solo homer to McCovey's blast while recording his first triumph over the Reds in seven tries.

Dodgers 5, Braves 2
Ron Cey drove in three runs with a pair of homers and Dusty Baker added a solo shot, lifting Los Angeles over Atlanta. Cey led off the fourth with his 26th home run of the season, a drive against the scoreboard that tied the score at 2-2. Baker put the Dodgers ahead two outs later with his 23rd, a shot into the left-field seats.

After Reggie Smith singled with two out in the fifth, Cey sent another drive over the center-field fence, staking right-hander Dennis Lewallyn, 1-0, to a 5-2 lead and chasing Atlanta starter Buzz Capra, 3-11.

Phillies 6, Mets 2
Larry Christenson pitched a two-hitter, Jay Johnstone hit a home run and Garry Maddox delivered a two-run single to lead Philadelphia over New York.

Christenson, 14-6, surrendered Lee Mazzilli's solo homer in the first inning and the Mets scored in the seventh with the help of three Philadelphia throwing errors.

Pirates 5, Cardinals 4
Bill Robinson drove in two runs and scored two more, carrying Pittsburgh over St. Louis. Terry Forster evened his record at 4-4, although he retired after five innings with a stiff pitching arm.

Padres 9, Astros 5
Dave Roberts drove in four runs with a double and a three-run homer as San Diego beat Houston.

The Padres' Dave Freisleben, 7-7, hurled the first five innings to earn the victory.

Expos 4, Cubs 2
Tony Perez blasted a two-run double and Gary Carter and Ellis Valentine added RBI singles to pace Montreal over Chicago.

Stan Bahnsen, 8-7, scattered eight hits through 6 2-3 innings to earn the decision while Rick Reuschel, 19-7, was stymied in a second try for his 20th victory.

Angel Torres Called To Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP) — Angel Torres, a 24-year-old lefthander, was called up by the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday from their Class AA farm team in Three Rivers, Canada of the Eastern League.

Torres is the fourth minor league player called up by the Reds in the past week.

He was obtained by the Reds last May from the Montreal Expos in a deal that gave Cincinnati two young pitchers in exchange for Santo Alcala.

Torres, a native of the Dominican Republic, was 2-1 in 12 games at Three Rivers, with a 3.52 earned run average. Earlier this season he was with Indianapolis and Denver of the American Association, where he had a combined record of 2-0 and an ERA of 7.28.

Horton, Rangers Edge Twins, 4-3

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

The time was right for a change. Willie Horton was hitting just .156 against the Minnesota Twins and the Texas slugger decided something had to be done.

So, before Wednesday night's game, "I made up my mind to try to hit the ball to right field," he recalled.

The results of the designated hitter's brainstorm were a homer and a double to right and a single in Texas' 4-3 victory. "I haven't been getting anything good to hit inside all year. I've been planning to hit that way since the first two months of the season."

The Twins used a shift on Horton, placing three infielders between second and third base. Horton beat the shift with a long opposite-field homer in the second, then smacked a double down the right-field line in the sixth to score Toby Harrah from first with the winning run.

The victory was a different experience for Texas which had dropped four in a row and 12 of their last 18. The Rangers remained eight games behind Kansas City in the American League

West.

Unfortunately for Texas and the rest of the AL West contenders, Kansas City keeps right on winning. The Royals took their eighth straight victory Wednesday with a 10-7 decision over Seattle.

In other American League action, the Yankees increased their Eastern Division lead to 3½ games with a 4-3, 10-inning victory over Cleveland; Toronto upset Boston 3-2; Baltimore topped Detroit 6-2 in 11 innings in the first game of a doubleheader, with the Tigers winning the nightcap 11-5; Chicago beat Oakland 5-1 and California took Milwaukee 4-1.

Royals 10, Mariners 7

Kansas City collected 18 hits, including four hits and two homers by Darrell Porter and four safeties by George Brett. The Royals overcame a six-run Seattle third inning.

The Royals have won 19 of their last 22 games in busting open the AL West logjam that saw four teams battle for the lead throughout the summer.

Yankees 4, Indians 3

Cleveland right-hander Wayne Garland was one out away from his first victory over New York, but Mickey Rivers' two-run single up the middle tied the game. Garland then lost it in the 10th on singles by Thurman Munson and Reggie Jackson and a throwing error by left fielder Bruce Bochte, which allowed Munson to score.

Blue Jays 3, Red Sox 2

Dave Lemanczyk, 11-13, pitched a six-hitter for his first triumph in six starts as Toronto broke an 11-game losing streak.

Roy Howell's opposite field homer off loser Ferguson Jenkins, 10-10, tied the game in the sixth. Gary Woods, recalled from the minor leagues just last week, knocked home the decisive run with a single later in the inning.

Orioles 6-5, Tigers 2-11

A pair of rookie catchers shared the spotlight in the doubleheader split. Baltimore receiver Dave Skaggs drove in five runs, three on a basesloaded double in the 11th inning, to lead the Orioles to their first-game victory.

Lance Parrish, playing in only his second major league game, went 3-for-4 with four runs scored and four RBI in the nightcap. Parrish also hit his first major league home run.

White Sox 5, A's 1

Steve Renko, 3-0 since coming to the American League, combined with Dave Hamilton on a four-hitter for Chicago. Ralph Garr had a two-run homer and Don Kessinger a two-run triple for the White Sox.

Angels 4, Brewers 1

Don Baylor, who has seven hits in his last eight at-bats and had reached base nine times in his last 10 at-bats, slammed a two-run homer to support Paul Hartzell's five-hitter. Hartzell, 7-9, hurled his fourth complete game of the season.

McCovey Enjoys Banner Year

CINCINNATI (AP) — For Willie McCovey, the 2,000-hit milestone was no hum. But 2,001 was out of sight.

"Total hits don't mean as much to me as the power hits," said the San Francisco slugger Wednesday night after driving in four runs in a 6-3 victory over the sinking Cincinnati Reds.

McCovey reached the plateau with a double, then celebrated with his 489th career home run, a two-run shot that boosted him in 13th place on the all-time list.

"Home runs and RBIs are my goals. I'm shooting for 500 homers," said McCovey, who is turning his 18th season into a banner year. It was the 24th homer of the season for McCovey, who turns 40 in January.

"Things like this will probably mean more after you're out of the game and gone," he said.

Righthander Ed Halicki added a solo homer to record a career-high 13 victories for his first victory over the Reds in seven tries. He has lost 10 this year.

Their efforts overshadowed George Foster's 46th home run, a mighty clout they may have been one the hardest hit balls in Cincinnati history.

Foster eclipsed Johnny Bench's club record for a righthanded hitter with a line drive off the third tier foul screen, a blast that press box observers felt would have ended up 15 rows up in the red seats.

Only eight homers have been hit into the red seats in the stadium's history — with Foster hitting three this year.

Foster, who leads the major leagues in homers and RBI, said he owed it to the fans.

"I owe so much to the fans here who are so loyal and enthusiastic," said Foster, who is four home runs shy of cracking Ted Kluszewski's 22-year-old club record. The last National Leaguer to hit 50 home runs was Willie Mays in 1965.

The loss left the Reds 12½ games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers, with 22 to play. It lowered the magic number to 12 for the Dodgers, who arrive this weekend.

San Francisco jumped on Reds' rookie Mario Soto, 2-5, for three runs in the first inning. McCovey's homer made it 5-2 in the third after Joe Morgan drilled his 22nd homer with a man on base.

The Reds send rookie Paul Moskau, 4-5, against John Montefusco, 7-11, in tonight's game.

In 1916 season, Grover Cleveland Alexander of the Phillies shut out the Cincinnati Reds five times.

Kollar, Kuhn Upset With Bengal Doctors

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals played a waiting game today, using former first round draft pick Bill Kollar as bait for a possible trade.

The Bengals put Kollar on waivers Wednesday in a gambit aimed at forcing interested National Football League clubs into upping the ante for the reserve defensive lineman.

If he is claimed, which is a strong possibility, the Bengals can withdraw him from the list and trade him to the team making the best offer.

It is a maneuver employed on occasion by NFL clubs when trade talks break down. The idea is to find out who needs help and what price they will pay to obtain it.

The former Montana State star was a No. 1 draft choice in 1974 after being rated by many NFL scouts as the top defensive lineman in the nation.

The Bengals need to cut five players by next Monday, but the loss of Kollar would cut deeper into a depth problem along the defensive line.

However, General Manager Paul Brown said the acquisition of 13-year veteran Walter Johnson last week strengthened the club in that area. He noted that Kollar's chances of making the club "were jeopardized by a slow recovery from off-season surgery."

Kollar has been inactive almost 10 months due to a foot injury suffered last October. He joined workouts for the first time last week and could need a month to get in shape.

The Warren, Ohio, native welcomed the idea of leaving Cincinnati.

"I don't feel I got a fair shake here. Not to put down the organization, but I'm really glad to get out. I've told them I was sick of that third down stuff," he said, referring to his role in the past two years as a pass rush specialist on third downs.

"I know I can play somewhere. In a couple weeks my foot will be 100 per cent. I'm not worried about that," he said.

He said the Atlanta Falcons have reportedly expressed an interest in him, but admitted he would prefer playing for the Seattle Seahawks.

Meanwhile, the Bengals and their team doctors have come under criticism, with Kollar adding a negative voice.

Second-year linebacker Ken Kuhn, who was cut Tuesday, said he has filed a grievance with the NFL players union, claiming the club waived him without giving him the opportunity to recover from a knee injury.

The former Ohio State star said Dr. Robert Murphy, OSU's orthopedic surgeon, diagnosed his injury last week as "stretched and possibly torn" ligaments. He said Bengals physician Dr. George Ballou indicated the same thing Saturday night.

Kuhn charges that he was waived 72 hours later after the team doctors medically cleared him.

"I can't see how the doctors changed their tune. Something happened over the weekend. It's either doctors' ignorance or they (the Bengals) just wanted to get rid of me."

Kollar is unhappy that the Bengal doctors did not quickly diagnose his foot injury. It was four months before he underwent surgery to fuse two foot bones together.

In 1908, pitcher Ed Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs worked both ends of a double-header against the Brooklyn Dodgers and shut them out in each game.

Right-hander Walter Johnson, a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame, lost 26 games by a 1-0 count in his 21 seasons with the Washington Senators.

Vikes Win Golf Match

The Teays Valley Vikings gold team defeated Greenfield McClain at Upper Landsdowne Tuesday evening by a 173 to 188 score.

Bill Neal of the Vikings was medalist with a two under par 34. Other Vikings and their scores were Bruce Rainier, 45; Don Von Ins, 47; Paul Cook, 47; and Dave Anderson, 48.

Tuesday was the first match of the season, with the next outing for the Vikes slated for this afternoon against Hillsboro at 4:30 p.m. at Upper Landsdowne.

Steve Holden Has Appendectomy

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns' veteran wide receiver Steve Holden underwent an appendectomy at Shaker Medical Center in Cleveland Wednesday, a team spokesman said.

The spokesman said Holden will be out of National Football League action for approximately four weeks.

Kollar has been inactive almost 10 months due to a foot injury suffered last October. He joined workouts for the first time last week and could need a month to get in shape.

The Warren, Ohio, native welcomed the idea of leaving Cincinnati.

"I don't feel I got a fair shake here. Not to put down the organization, but I'm really glad to get out. I've told them I was sick of that third down stuff," he said, referring to his role in the past two years as a pass rush specialist on third downs.

"I know I can play somewhere. In a couple weeks my foot will be 100 per cent. I'm not worried about that," he said.

He said the Atlanta Falcons have reportedly expressed an interest in him, but admitted he would prefer playing for the Seattle Seahawks.

Meanwhile, the Bengals and their team doctors have come under criticism, with Kollar adding a negative voice.

Second-year linebacker Ken Kuhn, who was cut Tuesday, said he has filed a grievance with the NFL players union, claiming the club waived him without giving him the opportunity to recover from a knee injury.

The former Ohio State star said Dr. Robert Murphy, OSU's orthopedic surgeon, diagnosed his injury last week as "stretched and possibly torn" ligaments. He said Bengals physician Dr. George Ballou indicated the same thing Saturday night.

Kuhn charges that he was waived 72 hours later after the team doctors medically cleared him.

"I can't see how the doctors changed their tune. Something happened over the weekend. It's either doctors' ignorance or they (the Bengals) just wanted to get rid of me."

Kollar is unhappy that the Bengal doctors did not quickly diagnose his foot injury. It was four months before he underwent surgery to fuse two foot bones together.

In 1968, pitcher Ed Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs worked both ends of a double-header against the Brooklyn Dodgers and shut them out in each game.

Right-hander Walter Johnson, a member of the Baseball Hall of Fame, lost 26 games by a 1-0 count in his 21 seasons with the Washington Senators.

In Memoriam
In loving memory of Richard Young, who passed away, September 8, 1976.

There is a memory fond and true,
There is a token of affection,
Father,
And a heartache still for you.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A pleasant surprise indicated — possibly the settlement of an outstanding obligation. Romance highlighted, too.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A splendid period in which to plan home improvements; also to give serious thought to a property deal.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): With your innate ingenuity, you will probably discover more than one novel way of meeting day's demands. Others are competing for identical goals. Push on!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Stellar influences warn against indiscretion, unconventionality. Stress your innate conservatism — especially in dealings with the opposite sex.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): There may be a hitch in certain arrangements now — especially those involving travel. Be prepared to improve.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): To be avoided: irrational moves, hasty conclusions, misjudgments through carelessness or prejudice. This won't be difficult if you display your usual foresight.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): An "iffy" sort of day, much depending on your initiative and good judgment. You have plenty of planetary backing to carry out worthwhile moves and plans, however.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Influences beneficent. Take advantage by pressing on toward lofty objectives. Job and financial interests especially favored.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Tip-top Jupiter influences foster more of the grit and ingenuity that won laurels for you in the past. This will be a good day for innovations.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to

Jan. 20): Don't be tricked by the bizarre. Overactivity also unwise. A well-regulated day will bring achievement, stimulate incentive. Avoid obstinacy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Some unusual activities indicated, but certain tedious matters will require attention nonetheless. Pep them up with one of those ingenious "twists" at which you are so adept.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some trends changing. Synchronize your activities to accommodate. Curb a tendency to become overly emotional in a relatively unimportant situation.

YOU BORN TODAY are always eager to be numbered among the front-runners in ambitious and worthwhile enterprises even though you may, at times, become dispirited over your life's work or your means. You usually rise above such moods, however, because you are not only ingenious and basically optimistic, but have that important "will to win."

You have an affinity for science and may be especially attracted to electronics or physics; may do important research work in either field. You could succeed in the theater — as actor, producer, playwright or critic and, with your gift for writing, would make an excellent journalist. Other areas in which, properly trained, you could excel: teaching, painting, any occupation which involves travel. Birthdate of: Luigi Galvani, Ital. physicist; Leo Tolstoy, Russian author.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth Sign.

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): A pleasant surprise indicated — possibly the settlement of an outstanding obligation. Romance highlighted, too.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): A splendid period in which to plan home improvements; also to give serious thought to a property deal.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): With your innate ingenuity, you will probably discover more than one novel way of meeting day's demands. Others are competing for identical goals. Push on!

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Stellar influences warn against indiscretion, un-conventionality. Stress your innate conservatism — especially in dealings with the opposite sex.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): There may be a hitch in certain arrangements now — especially those involving travel. Be prepared to improvise.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): To be avoided: irrational moves, hasty conclusions, misjudgments through carelessness or prejudice. This won't be difficult if you display your usual foresight.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): An "iffy" sort of day, much depending on your initiative and good judgment. You have plenty of planetary backing to carry out worthwhile moves and plans, however.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Influences beneficent. Take advantage by pressing on toward lofty objectives. Job and financial interests especially favored.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Tip-top Jupiter influences foster more of the grit and ingenuity that won laurels for you in the past. This will be a good day for innovations.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to

Jan. 20): Don't be tricked by the bizarre. Overactivity also unwise. A well-regulated day will bring achievement, stimulate incentive. Avoid obstinacy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Some unusual activities indicated, but certain tedious matters will require attention nonetheless. Pep them up with one of those ingenious "twists" at which you are so adept.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Some trends changing. Synchronize your activities to accommodate. Curb a tendency to become overly emotional in a relatively unimportant situation.

YOU BORN TODAY are always eager to be numbered among the front-runners in ambitious and worthwhile enterprises even though you may, at times, become dispirited over your life's work or your means. You usually rise above such moods, however, because you are not only ingenious and basically optimistic, but have that important "will to win."

You have an affinity for science and may be especially attracted to electronics or physics; may do important research work in either field. You could succeed in the theater — as actor, producer, playwright or critic and, with your gift for writing, would make an excellent journalist. Other areas in which, properly trained, you could excel: teaching, painting, any occupation which involves travel. Birthdate of: Luigi Galvani, Ital. physicist; Leo Tolstoy, Russian author.

taxes not permitted by law," he said. In suggesting ways to provide more money for crime protection, he said that state statutes permitted each township to pass a police protection levy to pay for a township or village marshal. He also said that townships could band together and form a police district to create a larger tax base for the purpose. This, however, would not provide more money to the Sheriff's department. A county-wide tax would be needed for this purpose, he said.

"Judicial leniency is a problem of national concern," Kingsley said, referring to one of the contributing factors to the increased crime rate identified by the committee. He said that if residents of a community were willing to go to the courts each day there is a criminal trial or hearing, the judges would be aware of their concern and impose more stringent penalties. He emphasized, however, that the judges are limited by statutes and supreme court decisions on the penalties that can be imposed.

"There is as much crime in a community as the citizens will permit," the prosecutor said. He said that meetings such as the one held Wednesday are a step in the right direction.

Commissioner Liston noted that Pickaway County has one of the best equipped sheriff's departments of any rural county in the state. Commissioner Donald Strous informed the group that "the problems of Darby Twp. are the county's problems. The solution of it must come not only from the Sheriff's department and the county commissioners, but also from the judicial system."

Commissioner Carl Schein said "We can work out a solution if we all work together."

Sheriff Radcliff blamed a part of the increasing crime rate on the influx of criminals from the Franklin County and Columbus area. He noted the county has three cars on the road at a time when the department is up to full strength. One patrol the west side of the county, one the east side and one remains in a central location.

"I pledge to you my continued effort to fight crime to make Pickaway County a better place to live. And we can do this with the cooperation of the county commissioners, the judicial system and the people."

Another meeting has been scheduled for Oct. 5.

Members of the citizen's committee included Dave Kohli, Rex Bullar, Jim Bolin and John Fraim. Darby Twp. trustees are Clare Clark, clerk; Jim Musselman, Darral Furniss and Albert Fields.

Forecast For The Fields

By The Associated Press

Here is the agriculture weather advisory for Ohio provided by the National Weather Service:

High pressure centered north of the Great Lakes will continue to influence weather across most of Ohio. Southwest winds will bring warmer conditions to the Buckeye state Friday and produce a chance of rain by Saturday. Fair weather and pleasant temperatures are indicated Sunday and Monday.

FIELD OPERATIONS — Good drying weather will continue to dry mature crops across the state this afternoon. Daily drying rates will range around 0.20 inch through Friday. Showers Saturday are expected to be light and scattered. Some areas may suffer temporary interruptions of field work.

HARVESTING — Drydown of corn will be fairly steady through the rest of the week and into early next week. Scattered wetting Saturday could cause some slowing of the drying process in shower areas this weekend. Soils will remain firm in general. Haymaking will be good through Friday and could continue through the weekend since the showers will be scattered.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES — Ripening and harvest conditions will be generally good. Temperatures Friday will go into the mid 80s. Early mornings will have heavy dew formation as a result of long nighttime periods and relatively light winds. Any delays due to showers Saturday are likely to be very short.

TOBACCO — Southern Ohio tobacco producers will have improved harvest and drying conditions the next two days. Afternoon humidities will fall to around 50 per cent but return to 90 per cent or higher at night.

LIVESTOCK — Warm conditions are expected to develop Friday. The heat stress will not be severe but livestock in confined quarters will need to have increased ventilation and possible additional water supplies.
